

Social Care Day of Remembrance and Reflection 17th March 2022

Partner newsletter text:

Social Care Day of Remembrance and Reflection on the 17th March 2022

Social Care Day of Remembrance and Reflection will be taking place on the 17th March 2022, and activity is well underway to mark this important day.

The day will be an opportunity for everyone impacted by the work of the social care sector to reflect on the important work of the social care sector and pay tribute to the people we lost, the people who supported us, and the people who made it through the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic.

You can get involved by visiting our Memorial Wall and Thank You Wall and leaving a tribute to a lost loved one, a thank you to a care worker who has provided vital support to you or someone you know, or a well done to a colleague who worked hard to help keep the people they support safe during the pandemic.

We're also fundraising to invest in a fitting tribute to the important work of the social care sector.

If you or your organisation can help with fundraising please see our fundraising pack for more details on what we would like to do with money raised and how you can help.

Social media posts:

Twitter:

Proud to be a part of Social Care Day of Remembrance and Reflection taking place on the 17th March 22. Visit the Memorial Wall and Thank You Wall to leave a tribute. Help us to fundraise.

#RememberSocialCare

Linked in:

We're proud to be a part of Social Care Day of Remembrance and Reflection being planned for the 17th March 2022, and are encouraging everyone impacted by social care to get involved.

The day will reflect on the vital work and support of the social care sector through the COVID-19 pandemic and remember those workers who sadly lost their lives.

Visit the Memorial Wall and Thank You Wall and leave a tribute to a lost loved one, a thank you to a care worker who has provided vital support to you or someone you know, or a well done to a colleague who worked hard to help keep the people they support safe during the pandemic.

If you or your organisation can help with fundraising so that we can invest in a fitting tribute, please see our fundraising pack for more details.

#RememberSocialCare